

Don Ceresia
Global Staffing Regional Manager
The Boeing Company

Don Ceresia is currently the Global Staffing Regional Manager and Business Partner Representative responsible for the facilitation, support, communication and deployment of Global Staffing processes, systems, tools, and services. Global Staffing services include sourcing, college, professional recruiting, contract labor administration, and Career Transition Services. Ceresia is also responsible for the St. Louis Student Development Program, which includes summer internships, cooperative education students, and INROADS.

Prior to his current assignment, Ceresia was Executive Assistant to the Vice-President of the St. Louis Site and also the Vice-President of the US Navy/Marine Corps Fighter Aircraft Programs. In this role Ceresia also supported both the Boeing and Integrated Defense Systems' Program Management Councils.

Ceresia joined the company as a financial analyst. He has been assigned to various Navy and Air Force Missile, Aircraft and Advanced Design Programs. His past job assignments included the Business Manager on the Air Force's Defense Support Program, the Navy's Stand-Off Land Attack-Expanded Response (SLAM-ER) and Harpoon Missile Programs. Don was also the Business Manager for the Naval Tactical Aircraft Organization's Airframe and Subsystems Team. This assignment supported the production of the F/A 18, T-45, and AV8B aircraft.

Ceresia holds a bachelor's degree in Finance from St. Louis University and a master's degree in Business Administration from Maryville College, St. Louis.

Ceresia is active in Special Olympics and coaching mentally and physically challenged individuals in playing sports. He is a member St. Louis's Valley Industries' (Sheltered Workshop) Board of Directors. He is a Board of Directors member of MSCCN, the Military Spouse Corporate Career Network. He is also a Member of the Notre Dame Career Center Advisory Council, St. Louis University's Employer Advisory Committee, and the St. Louis Community College's Advisory Board. He is a member of St. Louis University's Soccer Hall of Fame and the St. Louis Soccer Hall of Fame.